CHRISTMAS VANDALS WREAK HAVOC

THIS SIGN IS IN FRONT OF A NORTH STREET HOME

It is a great big joke, it seems, to some of the High School boys. Daily they gather to exchange experiences on their activities in destroying Christmas decorations, and of the other things they have done in a sense of malicious pleasure.

They are joined by their dads, too, in one sense. One landowner reports that two very fine Norwegian Spruce have been cut down by people who thought they needed the trees.

Tree Warden Bill Babine, this year, deliberately delayed in decorating the Christmas Tree on

FROM THE MANAGEMENT AND STAFF AT

'HELP STAMP OUT HOME COOKING'

Selectmen's Meeting

There was no agenda for the Selectmen's meeting Monday night. TM Melzar simply stated that there was 'nothing to put in it'. The meeting lasted only an hour.

Mr Bender reported receiving a letter from the Bellmoor family of South Wilmington, complaining about a dog. The dog officer, Leo LeBlanc, had been awaiting the direction of the Town Hall before proceeding with the matter and conducting action against the owner. Mr Bender said he was just sorry that they had wasted a week by an apparent lack of co-ordination.

The warrant for the Special Town Meeting was signed, and a footnote included, at the suggestion of the Town Counsel indicating the availability of the warrant at multiple places.

There are now applications from eight men received, for Town Manager.

Bender commented that Repr. Fred Cain must be 'practicing what he preaches about conservation in Government; because he sent only one copy of Form 4083 on 'Home Rule' which would take a considerable time to read, and seemed to be on the subject of how to amend a Town Charter.

Meanwhile Mr Black had been quietly examining a volume of state laws, and brought out that Chapter 140, Section 157 states that the 'Board of Selectmen must order the owner of a dog, with relation to restraint. After they had issued such an order the matter could then go to court'.

Black said that the Chief of Police had outlined the procedure, except for questioning, and that a hearing should be scheduled for December 27th, at the Selectmen's meeting. Bender acquiesced, and the hearing will be held at 8:15 Dec 27th between the complainants and the owner of the dog.

Melzar answered a comment of Mr. Black's, about the man who is supposed to be the owner of the dog, saying he has to come to you for a license to run his business. 'You'd think he would want to stay in your good graces'.

There was a letter from the Town Counsel about a Reserve Force, for the Fire Department.

The attorneys for Wilmington Plaza sent still another letter, postponing their appointment to talk over a proposed gasoline station until January 16. Bender said they have kept affirming and confirming appointments that they did not have. Mrs Drew pointed out that it was an application for the storage of gasoline on the site, and that wasn't really what they wanted at all. This was silly, she said. Niles suggested that they could not be seen on January 16, because this was to be the night of the Special Town Meeting.

The Board of Health sent a letter saying that a local establishment had an unlicensed juke box. It was referred to the TM.

A letter from the Town Counsel, referring to an inquiry from the Town Clerk, confirmed a previous ruling by Philip Buzzell, when he was Counsel, that the Town Counsel's opinions are not public records, and not subject to public inspection.

George Wilson, owner of Thrushwood Hall, at 220 Andover Street applied to renew the license for his hall, which was granted with the same restrictions as previously imposed - tickets not to be sold except at private parties, without a special license. Fee for the year, $50. A Special Permit was issued for the sale of tickets to a New Years Day Party, January 1 to January 2, 1967, to be sold to the public at large. This fee was an additional $5.

New Business

Mrs Drew reported having several complaints but that they had been referred to the 'Keep America Beautiful Committee'. Mr. Niles asked for a Report on Precincts, and also he wished a report on open ditches, from the Planning Board, with reference to subdivision.

Melzar said that these problems of the whole town would be covered in the Town Engineer's Article for the Special Town Meeting. Niles said that this was 'too wide' a study, he was immediately concerned with projects approved, with open drain age ditches.

Mr Black asked if a light on Temple street had been replaced, and Mrs Drew joined in to say that it was lucky that one of the families on that street was keeping a porch light on.

Black also inquired if they were going to post some reward money for information about the fires. There have been nine to date, he noted, and 'somebody was going to get it soon'. Melzar and Bender noted that there was no money for this until after the first of the year, but that it was a good suggestion.

Mr Bender reported that he had been awakened at an early hour of the morning by someone using the name of Mr Dunn of Grove Ave., complaining that the DAV was in full swing. He had called the police and they had checked, to find no lights, and no one, at the DAV.

Mr Miceli said that Mr Dunn had called him to say that there were cars at the DAV on Sunday.

Felice Vitale asked to comment before the end of the meeting. He said that there had been a petition with 2000 signatures and he thought the people deserved an answer. Mrs Drew wanted to know what petition he was talking about, and Vitale said it was a request for answers on the 'assessment problem'.

Niles said the questions had been referred to the Board of Assessors, and he thought they were answered. Vitale said that the Board of Assessors had no interest in making it public. Mr Miceli suggested that Bender communicate with the Board of Assessors and make sure this was taken care of. Mrs Drew said the Assessors were busy with abatements and evaluations at present, that they were too busy for anything extra. Melzar commented that he had another job for them when they were through - the renumbering of the homes on Shawsheen Avenue.

Mrs Drew asked, for the last item, if Melzar had the budget prepared, and he said he was waiting for the School Department to finish theirs.

Driver gets Suspended Sentence

Joseph H. McNery, Jr., formerly of 63 Pleasant Street, Woburn, now of 53 Allen Road, Billerica, was given a six month sentence in Woburn Court, yesterday, by Justice Francis H. Cullen, for Driving as to Endanger. The sentence, for the House of Correction, was then suspended for a two year period of probation.

He had entered a plea of Not Guilty to another charge, that of Manslaughter, and the judge found 'No Probable Cause', thus freeing him of that charge.

McNery was the driver of the vehicle which killed 12 year old Laurel Johnson, on October 24th, in Wilmington Square.

Heads Library Board

The Board of Library Trustees, Monday night, elected its newest member to the post of Chairman, voted formally for the Walker School site for a new library, and prepared to discuss with the Permanent Building Committee the issue of Library Architects.

Christian Bachman, 20 Marie Drive, a resident of Wilmington for about two years, and a senior consulting engineer at Avco was elected the new Chairman.

Mrs. Nellson, of the board, reported that the candidate that the Library Board had been considering, for its new librarian, has become a librarian in Melrose.

She reported a conversation with the Library Extension (state), and the opinion that perhaps a woman might be better for Wilmington, because of the difficulties in getting a man. The fact that Wilmington is without a permanent Town Manager adds to the difficulties, and also that there is no proper building program under way.

In discussing the problem of an architect Bachman said that 'We should insist that he be someone who has built libraries before - maybe half a dozen. If the PBC is going to be adamant there is going to be trouble'.

'We have said it before, and we will say it again - building a library is no place for 'on the job training' '.

Mrs. Nellson reported that the Town of Andover had been granted $85,500 from the Federal Government for Library Assistance, and that Higham got $138,000.

Hingham, she said, had Kenneth Schaeffer, of Simmons College, (Director of Library School) for its consultant, and 'having someone like that really pays off'.

Schaeffer, she said, charges $150 a day, plus transportation, plus lunches. 'What he proposed to do, (for Wilmington) was far more elaborate than what Mr. McNiff did'. She thought that Schaeffer had been working as a consultant for Wilmington his bill would have been about $1800, instead of the $400 paid McNiff.

Mrs. Norton spoke up to say that it was worth having a consultant like that, because of the tremendous monies he can save a town, and that 'he tailors a library to the town's needs'.

Mrs. Nellson then went on to report that the town of Randolph had received the sum of $135,075 in Federal Funds - but that they had a peculiar position because their library had burned down.

She went on to say that there were difficulties about accepting Federal aid - 'you cannot lift a spadeful of earth before you have the approval of the Federal Government'. She went on to guess that April 1968 would be an early date for a library, under a Federal program.

Mrs. Norton then commented that the Federal Aid works 'two ways' and that it prevented, in the town of Bedford, some cuts in standards that would have been made.

Federal Aid, Mrs. Nellson said, works differently for the various states. In Massachusetts the state pays $56 for every $44 of Federal help, while in Utah it was probably only 10%.

Mr. Bachman noted that the reports by Mrs. Nellson on the aid of consultants had been very good, and that they were the 'essence of a splendid argument with the PBC over the matter of building a library. 'We might spend up to $5000 for a good consultant, and get up to $138,000 extra for our troubles'.

Mrs. Nellson: When the PBC chose their architect for the previous proposals each member just sat and stated his reasons for naming their particular choice, without referring at all to the names that the Library Committee had chosen. 'They took the standpoint that we were being 'taken in' by glib architects'.

Police Chief warns against Solicitors

Chief of Police Paul J Lynch has issued a general warning to businessmen and others that there are two teams of solicitors in the area purporting to represent the Police, and the New England Police Chiefs.

Neither group have any official representation, and any attempt to solicit advertisements or other business by strangers should be immediately reported to the Wilmington Police, Lynch says.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Ivory sheath with an Empire waistline and a satin skirt, a Chantilly lace bodice, and long tapering sleeves. She had a removable sleeveless satin coat, and a Chantilly lace chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion fell from Alencon lace petals clustered around a satin Ivory bow appliqued with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Miss Carole J Crispo, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and Miss Anne A Crispo, cousin of the bride was the bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Theresa Mary Crispo, sister of the bride and Miss Lori Ann Frisch, sister of the bridegroom.

Mr William F Frisch of Otter River was best man for his brother. The ushers were G. Robert Frisch of Lunenburg, brother of the groom, Joseph T Ethier of Buffalo New York and David E Crispo of Wilmington, brother of the bride. George A Crispo Jr was the ring bearer for his sister, and Joseph Crispo, also a brother of the bride served as altar boy at the wedding.

The maid of honor wore a blue sheathe gown with a crepe skirt and a royal blue velvet Empire bodice trimmed with jewel white lace at the waistline and at the edge of her teacup sleeves. She carried a cascade of medium blue and white carnations and ivy.

The bridesmaids and junior bridesmaids were identically attired in gold and carried cascades of yellow and white carnations with ivy.

Guests were received at the Andover Country Club after the wedding. Following a trip to Miami Florida, Mr and Mrs Frisch will make their home at 1037 Main Street in North Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Wilmington High School and is attending the Lowell Academy of Hairdressing. She is employed by the Raytheon Co., in Waltham.

Mr Frisch is a graduate of Fitchburg High School, and attended Wentworth Institute. He is an electronic technician at the Raytheon Co., in Waltham.

Carole Kasabuski is Bride

In an 11 am Nuptial Mass at St. Dorothy's Church, on December 17th Miss Carole R Kasabuski, daughter of Mr and Mrs Alfred W Kasabuski of Laite Road, Wilmington, became the bride of Mr Edward L Courtenay, son of Mr and Mrs Richard L Courtenay of Wakefield.

The Reverend Joseph Leahy, Pastor of St. Dorothy's performed the Mass. Music on the organ was by William Noll. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a white wool princess gown, trimmed in white satin, and her shoulder length veil was of Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade of white roses and ivy, on a white prayer book.

Miss Teresa Courtenay of Wakefield, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. Her street length gown was of Kelley Green, and she carried a cascade of red roses and holly.

Mr Michael Kasabuski, brother of the bride, served as best man.

After the wedding a reception was held at Fletcher Hall, in Westford, which was decorated for the occasion in white and red streamers. Music was by Jacques Renard and orchestra.

The mother of the bride, for her place in the reception line, chose a street length gown of aqua and gold brocade, and had a yellow rose corsage. The mother of the groom wore a dress of navy blue crepe, and a pink rose corsage.

The guest book was in charge of Miss Ellen Murray of Wilmington, a cousin of the bride.

The highlight of the reception was a spontaneous rendition of the Volga Boatman, in Polish, by the father of the bride, and her three uncles. It was totally unexpected, but when the orchestra played the music the four men broke into the song, which was very well received.

The honeymoon is being spent in Montreal, after which the newly married couple will make their home in Wakefield.

The new Mrs Courtenay is a graduate of Wilmington High School and Merrimack College, and has been employed by the Symmes Company, of Boston.

Her husband is a graduate of Wakefield High School and the Franklin Institute, and is employed by the Stevens Automotive Store in Wakefield. He served four years in the United States Coast Guard.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208 Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or 658-4865 after five. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

The Post Office seems to be up to date on delivery, but oh that parking! I know a lot of gals who are going to Tewksbury's Post Office - more room they say, and no waiting in line.

They received a letter yesterday morning that was addressed something like this: To the Lady I met at the funeral of the lady in the X family the other day. I think she lives on Burlington Avenue. It was delivered.

The Senior Citizens from Deming Way were tendered a Christmas Luncheon and Program last Friday at the Methodist Church, with a luncheon, and distribution of goodies, especially for those who are 'shut-ins' at the project. It's nice to know somebody cares.

We understand that the North Shore Steel Company got the bid for the new building on Concord Street, being erected by Barbo and Tambone. Of course that might be tough on the local steel company but anyway there are three local boys who work for the North Shore Company, Ken Roberts, Fred Walker and Ron Roberts. Nothing like work to keep a fellow busy and out of mischief.

Philip Buzzell, our former Town Counsel, hasn't been feeling good for the last couple of days, but he ought to be up and around by the time you read this.

If you see him - ask him about the story that the resignation of the last Town Manager reminded him of. It has absolutely nothing to do with Mr. Henneberger, and perhaps it's too bad that he didn't hear it, before he left for the sunny south. The story is a scream.

Mrs Olive Anderson of 20 Burt Road has come home from the Winchester Hospital, as of last Sunday. She was there for a major operation, and she is getting along nicely.

Beverly Bicknell of Belmont Ave has turned out to be a little angel in disguise. Beverly found a pair of glasses the other day, near the Walker School, and turned them over to her teacher, Mrs. Keville. There was a fountain pen, too.

The trail was followed, shall we say, and it was determined that the glasses had been dropped by someone who was boarding a bus for the West Intermediate School.

Walter Hills was the boy, and the glasses and pen were returned - and are Mr and Mrs Hills grateful!

The Wild West Show, at the High School, was something unexpected and a complete success! The kids came home with autographs and mementoes, and were up on high G with enthusiasm. Let's have some more!

Sandra Morrice of Middlesex Avenue hurt her back, while playing basketball, last Wednesday. She is in Room 406 at the Winchester Hospital, and hopes to be home by Christmas. She will be still confined to her bed however, and she'd love to see some friends.

Beverly Moller of Redwood Terrace is a lady who has been incapacitated, and is looking for a homemaker for a couple of youngsters, 3 and 4 1/2 years old. It will be a permanent position, and Bev would rather have a 'rand-mother' if it is at all possible to find one! Call me, at 657-7141 if you are interested.

There will be NO Mother's Day Out on Tuesday December 27 or January 3, because of the holidays. The new year for this program will start on January 10, from 10 am to 2 pm. Children will bring a bag lunch, and will be given milk and a midmorning snack of juice and crackers. They are still looking for Volunteers. Call Mrs. Grace Ryan at 658-4050.

There was a rumor running around town last weekend that the pony, Jonah, who was burned in the barn fire in N. Wilmington eleven days ago had developed an infection, and would have to be 'put away'.

It's not true, according to what

TOWN CRIER - WILMINGTON, MASS.
Harvey Skolnick, the vet. Harvey says the pony has a few blisters where his mane used to be, but that there is a bright look to his eye, and he should recover okay.

Guess what: The kids went to see Santa at Grants this week - and he was gone! One of the moms asked about him, and the answer was that he was kind of old and too crabby for the kids... ouch! Can you imagine that?

The Methodist Men who are planning a spaghetti supper on Dec. 28th at 6:30 will be listening to a Mr. Fowler, who is a Project Administration Engineer at Sylvania in Waltham - and is an authority on UFOs, - if you want to hear about that kind of stuff.

Service Clubs - not too many people belong to them, but they are to be commended for their work for others. I am talking of such clubs as Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, and so forth.

The Wilmington Lions Club, for instance, has been helping a girl who is blind - paying for operations and so forth. That's the stuff you never hear about.

Past Commander Jimmy Simpson of the DAV has always been a conscientious member of his organization - visiting the sick and cheering up those who are unable to be about.

Now it is Jimmy's turn. He is a patient in the Veteran's Administration Hospital, in West Roxbury - Room 451. The DAV Chapter would appreciate it very much if Jimmy's friends sent cards, for he is very sick. He is a Past Commander, and has held about every post in that organization, and he hasn't missed a Hospital Visit to a sick buddy in eleven years.

The DAV is going to organize a visit to Jimmy. Anyone who wants to help can get in touch with Joseph Sottile, of Baker Avenue.

And now I hope that you all have very Happy Holidays. Thanks for all your many Christmas Cards. I wish I could return them all, but for this year this will have to suffice. May we all pray that our boys overseas return home safely!

A Dump is a Lovely Place!

The Wilmington Town Dump will be Closed all day Christmas and all of New Years Day, and on the Mondays following, to give our employees a well deserved rest.

We wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Clean New Year!

Wilmington Common, the one donated by the late Herbert C. Barrows. Last year over 130 bulbs had been stolen from that tree. If it were not to be decorated until just a few days before Christmas morning -

The tree was decorated on Tuesday. Yesterday morning over 30 bulbs were missing.

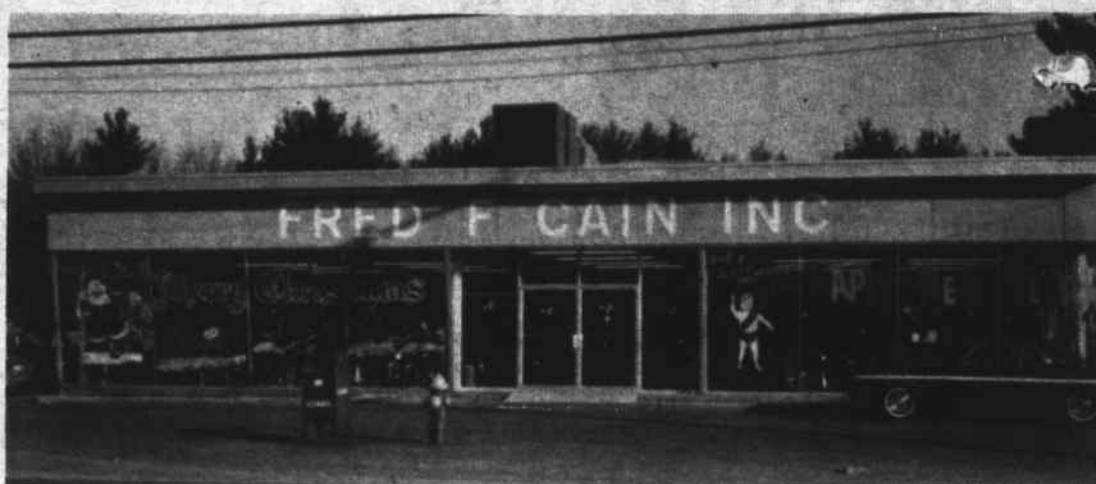

The Wilmington police have records of over 25 cases of real malicious damage in the past week.

And, says the Chief of Police, any youngster who is caught in one of these pranks is going to have to pay, and pay dearly!

There can be stiff penalties for such actions.
